In noticing the illumination on Friday night, our Reporter inadvertently omitted to mention some private residences that made a very fine appearance, and were admired by every passer by. Among them were those of Mr. Cone, on East Rich Street. and Mr. Shedd, on the South-west corner o Town and Seventh Streets. We would gladly mention all-for our note book is full of names-but we positively have

SUSPENSION OF PERFORMANCES AT THE OPERA HOUSE .- On account of the news of the great national calamity which occurred at Washington on Friday night, clothing the country in mourning, the performances at the Opera House, ad vertised for Saturday afternoon and evening, were suspended. Many children and some other persons were disappointed that SECRETARY SEWARD NOT the matinee did not take place, and many doubtless had calculated upon enjoying the evening's entertainment, but all considerate persons could not fail to approve and commend Manager Ellsler's determination to forego these performances, at no little pecuniary sacrifice, out of regard to the public feeling of deep and profound regret the sudden and unexpected news from Washington occasioned.

THE HIBERNICON.-Professor McEvoy and his assistants, participating in the general sadness and affliction caused by the news received Saturday from the National Capital, suspended the Matinee that was to have taken place at Naughton Hall on Saturday afternoon, as well as the evening's entertainment. We trust there are but tew persons, young or old, however much they may, for the moment, have felt disappointed, who will not commend the motive that prompted a suspension of these amuse-

To-night, however, the exhibition of the Hibernicon, or a Tour in Ireland, will be resumed. Mr. Heron will appear as Barney, the Guide, with new comic songs .-Misses Goodale and Taylor will also sing favorite songs and duetts. To-morrow (Tuesday) night, there will be no exhibition of the Hibernicon; but it will be resumed at Naughton Hall on Wednesday and Thursday evenings. A Matinee will probably be given in the meantime, of which due notice will be given. The Hibernicon is a charming popular entertainment, with which all who witness it, are highly pleased.

BENEFIT OF MRS. ELLSLER. - To-night Mrs. Effie Ellsler takes her first benefit at the Opera House. She announces a bill that cannot fail to draw one of the largest audiences of the season. Aladdin, in which she has won so much commendation, will be reproduced, but preceded by a new and beautiful play, called "Hard Struggle," in which Little Effie will be introduced in an interesting character. Mrs. Ellsler will be assisted in this piece by Mr. Evans, Mr. Ellsler and Mrs. Simcoe Lee, who on this occasion makes her first appearance. This Major General Dix fine play, followed by the splendid and grand scenic drama of Aladdin, will torm an entertainment which, considering by we predict it will, crowd the Opera House Opera House, as they open a season at the night of next week.

CHARLEY WAGNER'S FIREWORKS .- TO the enterprise of Charley Wagner are the Columbus public chiefly indebted for those magnificent fireworks and pyrotechnic displays that frequently illuminate our city, and are a source of gratification to our own people and of admiration to strangers. Such was the case at the grand illumination in our city on Friday. Charley not only furnished fireworks to other parties, but on his own account, had a platform erected in front of his house, from which were sent forth a continued stream of brilliant pyrotechnics, from the commencement of the general illumination till atter nine o'clock in the evening. Besides, Charley had on his platform a large and handsome silk transparency, from which the light within gleamed as from the morning sun.

After the display of fireworks had ceased in the vicinity of Capitol Square, Mr. Wagner, between eight and nine o'clock, took some sixty or seventy dollars' worth of pyrotechnics, on Manager Ellsler's account to the front of the Opera House, which became for some time the scene of one of the grandest displays ever witnessed in the city. grandest displays ever witnessed in the city ting an expression of perfect screnity. It was an exhibition highly befitting the There were no indications of pain, and it place and the occasion; and creditable alike was not known that he was dead until the to Mr. Wagner and Manager Eilsler.

CIRCUS AND MENAGERIE.-The attention of our readers will be arrested by the large Circus and Menagerie line, which is to be exhibited in this city on Wednesday and Thursday, the 26th and 27th inst. It combines, in one grand show, James Melville & Co.'s grand circus; Herr Driesbach's extensive menagerie; Sands, Nathans & Co.'s performing elephants, and the gigantic hippopotamus. The circus troupe is described as the largest and most complete ever combined in one establishment, as the names of the principal artists given in the advertisement, will demonstrate. The advent of this establishment will form quite an era in the history of amusements and public spectacles in the Capital City.

We have no Market Report this morning owing to the entire suspension of busine everywhere, on Saturday, when the intelligence of the President's death was received. There was no meeting of the Board of Trade of any of the Commercial Cities in the United States.

TOLLING OF BRLLS .- All day on Saturday, and during the progress of the meeting in Capitol Square yesterday afternoon, bells were tolling in different parts of the city. This, with the mournful drapery in which the city was shrouded, brought hor to all hearts the realization of the terrible affliction with which our common country has been visited.

It is now ascertained with reasonable certainty that two assassins were engaged in the horrible crime—Wilkes Booth being the one that shot the President, and the other a companion of his, whose name is not known, but whose description is so clear that he can hardly escape. It appears from a letter found in Booth's trunk that the murder was planned before the 4th of March, but fell through then because the ecomplice backed out until Richmond ould be heard from. Booth and his accomplice were at the liv ery stable at 6 o'clock last evening, and left there with their horses about 10 o'clock, or shortly before that hour. It would seem hat they had for several days been seeking their chance, but for some unknown reason it was not carried into effect until last light. One of them has evidently made his way to Baltimore. The other has not yet een traced.
